“ Alex I haven't seen you in many years. It sounds like you grew up to be a great man. You have passed way too early leaving behind many who love and miss you. Watch your parents from the afterlife and help them in this time of need. I know I have grown distant from your family over the years, but it breaks my heart to no end. Rest in peace until you get to see your family again

“ When I think about Alex I go back to the day we brought him home. How perfect and beautiful he was. From there it is a flood of memories, the day he asked can't the Dr's put a bandaid on grandpa's heart and make him all better. The time he and I drove down to see grandma and the cousins how intelligent he was in conversation, so many more and so many I wish we could have had. I love you Alex
