“ I was a student at UWSP from 1965-1970. During that time I worked as a student clerk with Irene Yost the mother of Charles E. Yost. I still have her picture on my nightstand. She helped me in so many ways. She is my Guardian Angel. I became an elementary teacher and counselor, wife, mother and grandmother. I needed to share all of this with her family. Thank you for sharing her with me. Linda Olson-Hellerud... olsonlk@hotmail.com

“ I remember the boat he was building in his backyard, what a project. He was going to sail around the world, only if we all had dreams like that. I don't know if it was ever finished, but it was impressive. He had all the talents to make it happen.

“ Mr. Yost was a great and successful man. His great life influenced everyone in a positive way wherever he lived. He was also a great military man, which made America a greater place for everyone, also. He succeeded in every aspect of life and will never be forgotten by all whose lives he made better. I hope that his loving wife and son will live on in joy, and remember the great honor of the man and father, that he left behind. May GOD bless him and those he Loved and left behind.

Sincerely, James Sharkey

“ Dear Yost family,

Sorry to here of your loss. I had chuck as an instructor for a manufacturing class back in the early 80's. I also attended a number of pig roasts he hosted at his lake home in Menomonie. He was an excellent teacher an always so welcoming. I wish I could have had him for more classes and sad that I didn't get a chance to get to know him more personally. It would have been a joy to dig more into his brilliant and caring mind. I know he will be surly missed. He was a wonderful man!!! I shed a few tears for you and your family...

“ I was very shocked to learn of Chuck's passing. He was so very strong and indefatigable that we often called him "Iron Man" as an indication of the high regard we all had of him. I thought he would probably out live all of us. He was competent in so many areas such as design engineering, machining, woodworking, and welding to name a few. He was a true friend who always gave me unwavering support.
