“Great teacher in the 1980's too! Treated the students fairly, down to earth, easy to talk to, made history fun! I remember his sideways smirk to the class when he would tell something funny. He always made the class interesting. I'm very grateful to have had him at RHS. He will be missed but always appreciated. My deepest sympathies to his family and friends.

“Mr. Vosz” will be missed. He was my high school history teacher and basketball coach. I will always remember that "Little Rock" is the capitol of Arkansas thanks to Mr. Vosz's associations and memorization techniques when learning state capitols. He'd put lots of facts to catchy tunes. A great guy always with a smile.

“ I worked in Rosholt in the late 80's and early 90's. Greg was a former teacher and I haven't seen him for a long time but remember him and his style. Thanks for being a teacher and giving to this earth. All the best to you and yours ❤️

“ In high school, I just skated by doing the minimum amount of work. I did well enough on exams that my grades weren't poor but I wasn't living up to my potential. Mr Vosz was the first teacher to ever pull me aside and tell me that if I put in a little more effort, I could do really well. It was such a small thing but it gave me the little push to actually care. To me, in that moment, it was the first time I realized that someone believed in me and saw any kind of potential. This carried on into college and now I am in the middle of medical school. I sincerely believe I wouldn't have made it to this stage in my education if it wasn't for Mr Vosz.
