PS

“ Great longtime family friend. Holger was multi-talented. He was a great cook, hunter, fisherman, mechanic, welder, and told some of the best stories of all time. He was a huge part of our families New Years Eve’s dinners for years, always a highlight for us to visit with him and hear his adventures of the “old” Winegar days and his travels as a millwright that took him to the French West Indies. Holger, you will be missed!
