

John Waube

November 16, 2023

John Frederick Waube was found deceased on November 16 in the woods behind his home in Lac du Flambeau, WI. He loved these woods and the bears and wolves that resided there. This was the one year anniversary of his wife Jackie's passing and we believe that he is now at peace with her.

The American Indian Movement was important to John, he gave his time and effort and encouraged others to do the same. Family and friends have always been important to John, in fact if you were a friend, you were family. John had a full life enjoying many sports and activities but especially riding his Harley, playing harmonica and in his youth surfing and skateboarding.

John is predeceased by his father Gordon Waube and wife Jackie . John is survived by his mother Nancy Porter, children Joshua Waube, Jamie Ford, Matthew Armstrong, Jackie Ann Young and Angel Young as well as sisters, brothers, grand children and many additional friends and family whom he loved and was loved by.

Jared Poupart has been there for John in life and in his passing, and our family is eternally grateful for all he has done. He started the ceremonial fires for John on November 16 and will keep them burning until the end of his spiritual journey home to be with his loved ones.

“ *I'm thankful for our last convo and hug ❤️
You're so lucky to have loved and been loved by my mom. Now you're together again, forever and ever. Your grandkids miss you so much, we all do.*

“ Family, I'm so very sad for your loss. John was a great man and I hope he and Jackie his queen are together again. I'm comforted to know he's no longer suffering. John rest in Paradise with your love.
