

Lydia A. Wagner

September 4, 1942 - January 1, 2024

Lydia Ann Wagner, 81, of Lac du Flambeau passed away on January 1, 2024 at Riverview Nursing Home in Tomahawk, WI following her battle with diabetes and dementia.

She was born Lydia Ann Martin to Howard and Helen Martin on September 4, 1942 in Chicago, IL. Lydia had two younger sisters, Pat (Michael) Lysien and Carol (Scott) Fisher. In the early 1960s Lydia's family bought a resort on Squaw Lake and that is where she met her soulmate, James Wagner. They were married in October 1962.

Lydia is survived by her sister, Pat and brother-in-law, Scott Fisher; children, Mary Jo Wagner Bruyette (Jim), James Russell Wagner and Amy Jalinski; four grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; nieces and nephews; and one special niece, Jaiden.

A private service will be held at a later date.

“ On behalf of the entire Stone Family, past and present, I wish to offer heartfelt condolences to the entire Wagner family. It was always such a genuine pleasure to enjoy a visit with Lydia, who annually gave us a large zucchini or some vegetable from her garden. Her smile radiated warmth and she was so sincere and genuine. She was an integral part of the Squaw/Amber Lake history and our families share generations of fond memories. Blessings,
George Stone

“ Sending sympathy from the Stone-Theile family on Lydia's passing. We always enjoyed a visit with her when we stayed at our cabin, and were delighted when we nominated her for a "Soul of the Northwoods" contest, and she won. She truly exemplified the soul of the Northwoods.
