“Sandy was such a dear friend to me. I don't think I've ever met a person who was more outspoken about her Savior. We took a day trip up to Bayfeld, MI, one day and took the ferry over to the island where she was so excited about sharing all the memories she had there with her beloved Dan. We often talked about missing our husbands but how thankful we were for all of the wonderful memories. She dearly loved each one of her family. She was a powerful prayer warrior. I can think of very few times when we ate together that she didn't tell the waitress that we were going to pray and ask what she could pray about for them. I was amazed at how many would just open up with definite burdens. She was always such an encourager but one that wouldn't let you revel in self pity. It was always, "Pray about it, God will show you what to do ". She was a great friend and example to me. I count it such a privilege to have gotten to know her. She will be missed but I know beyond a doubt that she's exactly where she longed to be- in the arms of Jesus. I'm praying for comfort for all of your family,
Love,
