“ My sympathy to your family and friends, Susan.

You were my best friend at Walther, and although I visited Lac du Flambeau as a child, I am sorry I never got up there to see you. The last time I visited you, we were in one of those "Lombardian" suburbs, probably in 1970. I loved going swimming with you and was so glad to have you as a friend. Remember the lilacs; they are still my favorite flower. I remember our last phone conversation. You were always a faithful friend, never failing to remember me on my birthday or during the holidays. I am sorry your spirit is no longer on this earth, but now I look heavenward and know my best friend is there, waiting for me. Love to you, always and ever, dear friend.
